OVER

Curriculum.

Students are given two or three individual lessons per week, which are allotted to their principal subjects and include theoretical work. Other classes, lectures, orchestras and the choral class are available for all approved students. There are also operatic and dramatic classes.

General Regulations.

Students must possess the physical and educational qualifications necessary for the studies they intend to pursue. They must give satisfactory references and undertake to attend the College for at least one year of three terms. They must pay the entrance and tuition fees as they become due.

New students are examined and graded according to their practical ability. Simple aural and theoretical tests are also given.

No student may be absent from studies without the Director's permission. Sickness for more than three consecutive days must be endorsed by a medical certificate.

Annual reports are sent to parents and guardians. Grave misconduct renders the student liable to dismissal.

No student may take part in a public performance, or accept professional employment, or publish a composition, without the Director's written permission.

Scholars before election must furnish a satisfactory medical report and may in addition be required to undergo a further examination by the medical officer of the College.

Choice of Professors.

The choice of Professors rests absolutely with the Director, but if intending students wish to express a preference, it may be stated here:—
